SLAVE PIANOS

recitals of visual artists' music and sound art

The SLAVE PIANOS repertoire is performed by the QRS Pianomation Research Laboratory Player Piano, the Playola. The Pianomation Reproducing System is a MIDI equipped playback system for acoustic pianos. Playback occurs when MIDI performance commands are sent from the controller; this master slave configuration instructs the piano in matters of note endurance, levels of expression as well as sustain & soft pedaling commands. Pianomation strictly controls each piano key with 127 levels of expression across 16 channels. Pianomation can endure up to 32 note polyphony. The Pianomation Reproducing System is supremely capable of summoning any piano to play obediently, unquestioningly, flawlessly, submissively and humbly.
